LONGWOOD COLLEGE
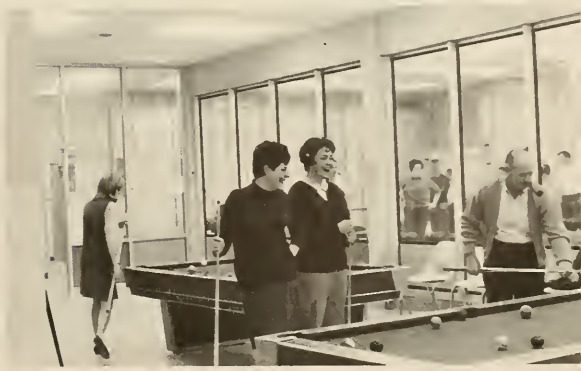
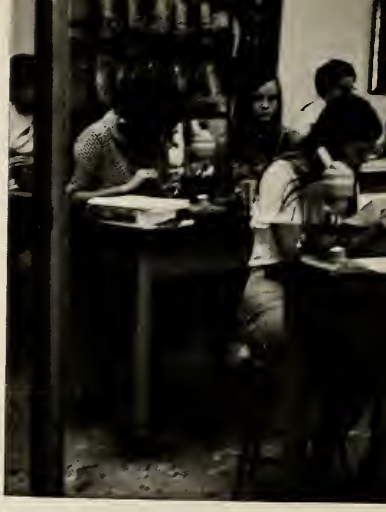
FARMVILLE, VIRGINIA

If I could catch and hold the way I feel, this throbbing bursting pulse they call my youth, I'd find myself the owner of the essence of delight. . .





A Year to Remember

Miss Longwood College 1968 is Pat Perry, a lovely sophomore Home Economics major from Danville. Pat charmed her way into the hearts of the judges at our annual pageant with her modern dance routine and genuine smile. Although Pat has participated in many local activities, the highlight of her reign was having the opportunity to represent Longwood in the Miss Virginia Pageant. Our hearts go out to you, Miss Pat Perry!

Oktoberfest

The year 1968 brought many changes to the Longwood campus, and a major change was in store for the traditional Geist Festival. In the early part of October, Geist revealed the new theme, Oktoberfest. It was selected from a festival of the same name held annually in Germany at this time of year. Festmeister, formerly called Mistress of Ceremonies, was Dillard Vaughan, and is the highest recognition that Geist gives a member of the Junior Class. The 1968 Mittenmeister, the former Midway Marshall, was Pat Cloonan, a sophomore who has contributed much to school activities. But many things remained the same—color skits, hockey games, fun, excitement, and most of all, Blue and White Spirit.

BRENDA HOLLY

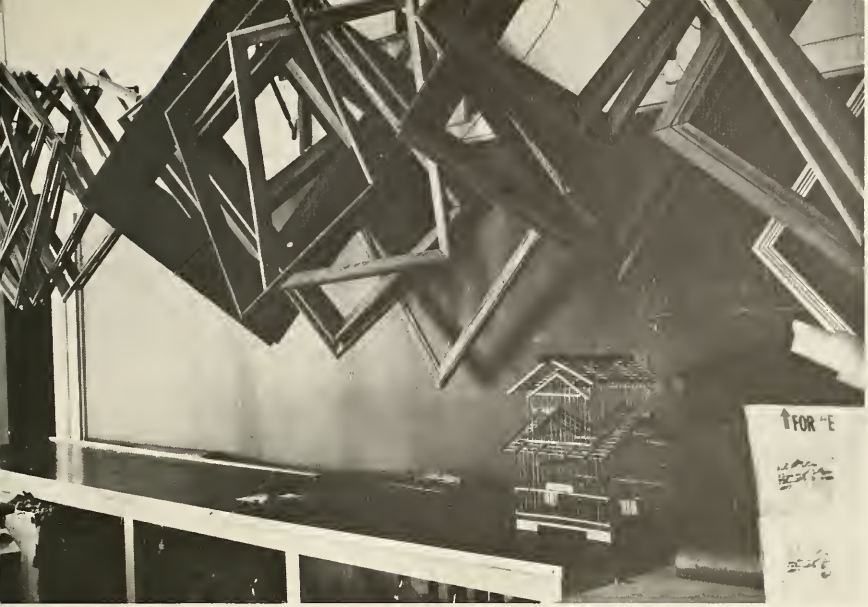
With the approach of the Christmas season, the YWCA was actively making plans for the selection of the 1968 Madonna. She was to be chosen by the student body on the basis of high Christian ideals and character. The annual pageant, "The Littlest Angel," was the result of much planning and hard work, and the highlight of the Christmas season was the presentation of Miss Brenda Holly, Madonna.

Best Dressed

DONNA GLEASON

Miss Donna Blake Gleason, a Freshman Art major from Hopewell was named Glamour's Best Dressed Girl at Longwood College for 1969. Donna, sponsored by the Freshman Class, is both a leader in fashion as well as campus activities. The contest was sponsored by Pi Delta Epsilon.

When the more exciting and glorious aspects of college life are overshadowed as work piles up and the hours of sleep become fewer and fewer, the determined but weary student may be driven to depression. Are the indignities she must now endure compensated by the dignities of education? She is taught that, "you must work that you may keep pace with the earth and the soul of the earth." She faithfully struggles on and soon she is rewarded with the realization that the worst has passed. It's downhill all the way now; spring was not a myth.



FOR "E

As summer ends, the faculty and administration are greeted by scores of meetings. New equipment and new procedures add to classes and administrative duties. Frantic students seek their advisors to straighten out conflicting schedules. Patience and hard work to accomplish a goal fill many hours. We, the students of Longwood, are deeply indebted to all the faculty and administration for their guidance during our Longwood career.

FACULTY & ADMINISTRATION

Dr. Henry I. Willett, Jr., President

Dr. Willett Becomes Longwood's Eighth President

On Saturday, November 22, 1968, Dr. Henry Irving Willett, Jr., was invested as the eighth president of Longwood College. The inaugural festivities began on Friday with an inaugural reception, an art exhibit of Miss Barbara Bishop's work, a presentation by the Longwood Players of The King and I, and a post-performance coffee hour at the alumnae house. Farmville hotels filled as delegates representing other institutions arrived to honor the new president. On Saturday many Longwood girls shared the excitement of the ceremony, which began with the academic procession. The organ anthem was written and performed by Mr. Paul Hesselink. The honorable Mills E. Godwin, Jr., Governor of Virginia, addressed the inaugural convocation. After his investiture, Dr. Willett and his guests attended an inaugural luncheon. A performance by the Concert Choir under the direction of Dr. John Molnar ended the two-day program.

Inauguration was a family affair for the Willetts. Pictured with Dr. Willett are Mrs. Willett and their sons, Scott and Rodney, Mr. Preston Turner, Dr. Willett, Sr., and Dr. Thomas Willett.

Governor Mills E. Godwin said in his address that he sensed "something of a transition that had taken place . . . since Dr. Willett came to campus."

The Faculty

Miss Anne Huffman and Mr. Paul Rouillard try to "steal" the show with their interpretation of "Bonnie and Clyde."

Joan of Arc takes on a new look as Mr. Bob Stauffer impersonates her in Follies, 1968.

Drama professors, Mr. Melsness and Dr. Lockwood prefer a billiards game to making acting debuts.

Repeated curtain calls assured the faculty that the 1968 Follies were thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by the student body.

Traditional skits and projects take an active part in class participation. Competitive "Red and White" and "Green and White" spirit add to strengthen Longwood's "Blue and White" spirit. At Longwood each class is something different and special. Sister classes are cherished by all. With all classes working together, Longwood becomes a united body of students which upholds the standards of the college.

Patty Kingsley Assumes Responsibility as Senior Class President

A busy schedule marked the final phase of the Class of 69's life at Longwood. After student teachers returned to campus, the class' first formal duty was senior capping. November was highlighted by Dr. Willett's inauguration in which the seniors were honored to participate. The remaining winter months were spent in ordering invitations and planning the final program for graduation. Then, after months of hard work, the seniors entertained the underclassmen with their skit depicting their four years' experience. The senior banquet followed as a final activity before exams. Graduation climaxed a memorable year for each member of the senior class.

Patty Kingsley and Carol Skelley proudly admire the announcements for graduation exercises.

A Senior Looks Back

What is life at Longwood? What has made this year a dynamic, and stimulating year, full of academic, cultural, and entertaining activities?

Fall is perhaps the busiest time of the year. Oktoberfest was at its best with skits, booths, and clowns galore. Sorority rush was anticipated with hushed expectation as rushees chose their favorite group. Seniors were asked to take part in the inauguration of our new president, Dr. Henry I. Willett, Jr.

Winter brought numerous Christmas activities and an anxiously awaited vacation. A hectic examination period and those all-important semester grades followed. Second semester The Miss Longwood Pageant and May Day enchanced the campus with their presentations of beauty. The traditional and memorab'e senior activities including Senior Class Night, Senior Banquet, and Commencement were an apt closing to a rich and rewarding school year.

Juniors Greet New Sister Class

The Class of 1970 was an active one this year. They began the year by welcoming their sister class, the freshmen, with a Red 'n White sing and a Freshman Serenade. Geist, a concert by the Yale Spizzwinks, and Christmas caroling rounded out the first semester for the juniors. Second semester the class presented a Laugh-in and participated in the annual song contest. March brought a concert by The Tams and the Junior Ring Dance. This year "Days of Wine and Roses" was chosen as the theme. The class ended the year by presenting Dr. Willett's portrait to Longwood.

Juniors get measured for rings.

Andee Leads Class of '71 for Second Year

The Sophomore class has been very active this year, initiating and participating in numerous activities. In September, the Sophomores helped their sister class present the "Miss Miscellaneous" contest for the green and white skit. During Geist the Sophs presented their booth, "Love makes the world go round." They also joined with the Senior class in presenting the Geist skit.

In December, the class held an auction to which a great many faculty members contributed. The Sophomore Road Show and Sophomore Weekend were the main events of second semester.

Sophomores study diligently in the library.

Freshmen Join in the Red And White Spirit to Win Geist!

Longwood's class of 1972 initiated more Red and White spirit on campus through its active participation in all aspects of college life. Looking somewhat bewildered at registration in September, the Freshmen quickly shed their beanies and adjusted to social and academic regulations. The mini-skirted, fashionable Freshmen kept L.C. tradition alive when they elected a Freshman Commission. The Commission dressed as elves to trim a Christmas tree in the Rotunda.

For the first time, Freshmen enjoyed the luxury of an attractive, remodeled dormitory. The more fortunate Freshmen got rooms in French Dormitory, named after "Charley Hop," Raymond French.

In February the class of 1972 presented their Freshmen Production.

Athletics play an important part in life at Longwood. The Athletic Association sponsors and coordinates all recreational and athletic functions on campus; this body promotes activities designed to benefit all Longwood students whether they are experienced athletes or unskilled fun-seekers.

ATHLETICS

A. A. Promotes Blue and White Spirit

A. A. Board members include, First Row: K. Lewis, B. King, L. Driver, S. Morgan, J. Herpold. Second Row: B. Jenkins, T. Bates, G. Sirc, P. Halstead, J. Erdman. Third Row: C. Umbdenstock, D. Vaughn, A. Pettis, M. Stone, L. Atkinson, B. Bondurant, Pam Crowder.

The Athletic Association serves to provide opportunities for participation in athletic and recreational activities, to recognize outstanding participation by members of the student body, and to stimulate class, color, and school spirit. This year, the A. A. sponsored participation in fourteen intramural, class, color, and varsity sports. Additional activities held each year include the Song Contest, blazer awards, Field Day, and the A. A. Demonstration in September.

Blazer award winners: A. Pettis, B. Bondurant, C. Hass, P. Shults, J. Erdman, M. Martin, G. Sirc, L. Atkinson, and J. Tibbs.

Sponsor Miss Callaway poses with officers for the 1968-1969 session: President, J. Tibbs; Secretary, S. Turner; Treasurer, J. Newberry; and Vice-President, P. Shults.

Hockey Teams Shoot for Victories

With competition on the intramural, class, color, and varsity levels, hockey fans at Longwood had an exciting and busy season. The sophomores were victorious in the class tournament and the Red and Whites were awarded the color points. The varsity team had a winning season and Longwood placed nine players on the Tidewater Team. Also, four Longwood girls represented the college at the National Hockey Tournament in New Jersey.

Gymnastics Team Displays Grace and Skill

"Hold that position!" Suzanne Morgan, Jo Mottley, and Susie Marsh go through strenuous preparation for competitive meets.

Longwood's newly-formed gymnastics team, coached by Miss Fath, participated in several meets, attended clinics, and served as judges for high school meets. On January 12, several area high schools and colleges attended a gymnastics clinic held in the French Dormitory gym. With the enthusiasm and progress displayed this year, the team is looking for even greater participation in the future.

"I'll do this right even if it takes me all night." Pam Harrison displays her determination as Debbie Ellenbrand spots for her.

Fencing Team "Foils" Opponents

The varsity fencing team, in its second year of existence, had an active season this spring. Starting practice in February, the girls worked hard in preparation for meets held in March and April against Lynchburg, Mary Baldwin, William and Mary, and several other schools. The team also attended a fencing clinic and tournament at Mary Washington College on March 7 and 8.

Basketball Team Scores Big

The varsity basketball team had a successful season, under the coaching of Dr. Heintz and Miss Callaway. Both the first and second teams had a long season, extending from early December into March. This year's team was exciting and fast-moving as was evidenced in such high-scoring victories as its 66-30, 51-30, and 49-36 wins over Mary Washington, Randolph-Macon, and Sweet Briar, respectively.

"Ball, ball, who's got the ball?" Judy Turner waits to see who gets the tap.

Fran Anthony jumps for the ball as Longwood battles the Lynchburg team.

"70"—The Dream of Every Golfer

Golfers Linda Walsh, Dian Turner, and Margaret Harrison get tips for a winning game from Dr. O'Neill.

With many members of last year's winning team returning this spring and the talented new members, the varsity golf team made a good showing. The team, being coached by Dr. Smith and Dr. O'Neill, held matches with Mary Baldwin, Madison, Lynchburg, and William and Mary. The highlight of the season, perhaps, was a trip to the University of North Carolina at Greensboro for an open tournament.

Activity in the Pool

"Help, I can't swim!"—an unheeded plea at H_2O practice.

Is diving your forte, Patti?

Many students enjoyed a refreshing swim from 10:00 p.m.—11:00 p.m., Monday through Thursday, when the pool was open for rec swim. Some came to practice their strokes and sharpen up their swimming abilities while others came merely to have fun and to get away from the books for a while.

Orchesis, Longwood's honorary modern dance organization, provides opportunities for those interested in dance to develop their knowledge and skill in the field of dance. Orchesis members were busy this year with many projects; among these were participation in the Christmas program presented by the Madrigals, production of the ballet in "The King And I," and the annual Orchesis concert, presented in April.

Swimmers Take Your Mark—Get Set—Go!

After competing with teams from Mary Washington, Mary Baldwin, Old Dominion, Westhampton, Roanoke, and Randolph-Macon, the varsity swim team ended its season with four wins and four losses. The team, under the direction of Miss Bush, won first place in a tri-meet at Westhampton and second place in diving. Swimming at William and Mary in an intercollegiate five-way meet, the Longwood girls obtained fourth place. Kathy Hipskind placed first in diving competition and had an overall record of five first place and four second place standings out of nine meets.

Lois, Ellen, and Patti "fly through the air with the greatest of ease."

The World of Dance in the Water

One, two, three—kick! Frances Bain and Barbara Carr illustrate the synchronized ballet leg.

H_2O members: clockwise from bottom: C. Dickenman, C. Umbdenstock, D. Swann, C. Skelley, B. Carr, F. Bain, A. Bishop, and H. Woodford.

The Corkettes and H_2O Club give Longwood girls an opportunity to learn and participate in synchronized swimming. Any student may try out for Corkettes; students who have been in Corkettes for one year and who hold a current Senior Life Saving certificate are eligible for membership in the H_2O Club. The two clubs present a synchronized swimming show each year. This year's show, presented March 19-22, was entitled "Mythology," and was designed to reflect the personalities of such gods as Mercury, Mars, and Juno.

Lob the Ball to Victory

The varsity tennis team, coached by Mrs. Harriss, had an early start this year, resulting in a long season. Practice started in March, and the team competed in matches against other schools until near the end of the school year. As in past years, the team traveled to several tournaments, both to play and to observe experts in competition.

Barbara decides if Suzanne and Jane are as good at table tennis as they are on the courts.

Lacrosse Team "Checks" Opponents

Lacrosse team: Clockwise (kneeling) S. Grigg, M. Tench, C. McDonnell, M. Tolley, S. Marsh. (standing) S. Naylor, L. Southworth, J. Sakshaug, F. Anthony, J. McCaffrey, G. Sirc, J. Washington, S. Williams, L. Atkinson. (Not pictured: P. Shultz, B. Jenkins, J. Erdman).

The Lacrosse Team, in its second year of competition, scheduled games against such schools as Sweet Briar, Bridgewater, and Madison. The growing popularity of lacrosse at Longwood was demonstrated by the large turnout at varsity try-outs in March. In addition to regular-season games, the team attended the State Tournament held at Hollins College.

Jinx and Jane "crosse" each other's paths.

Extra activities to increase the desire for learning and participation make up the organizations for Longwood students. Many money-raising projects to better facilitate each organization are a part of each student's life. New outlooks through speakers, films, and student-centered programs give students initiative to investigate their own specific fields more thoroughly. Each organization sets goals and boosts standards to create excellence in the Longwood student. Students are invited to join various organizations to diversify their attitudes and gain skill in fields other than their own.

A group of girls clad in white, a symbolic skull and crossbones on the sidewalk, a banner at various college functions, or chant late at night—all are evidences of Chi, an organization whose purpose is to encourage and to maintain a spirit of cooperation among students in every phase of college life; to foster the high ideals and traditions of our college; and to be an organization which seeks to recognize honorable attitudes in others.

Acting not as individuals, but as a representative group, Chi strives to instill and preserve the awareness and appreciation of the true spirit of Longwood, a spirit that must first be found in every individual student on camupus.

This year Chi is especially proud to present the plaques which adorn the Raymond H. French Building, honoring Longwood's well-loved "Charlie Hop."

Geist was founded in October, 1966, by the members of Alpha Kappa Gamma, as a local honorary to recognize and encourage leadership and to foster high ideals in both service and scholarship. Members are selected semi-annually from the Junior and Senior Classes. They represent those qualities signified by the German word "geist"—spirit, imagination, intelligence, and soul. In the near future, Geist plans to petition Mortar Board for a charter. Geist promotes college loyalty, and it preserves the worthwhile ideals and traditions of the institution. Understanding and cooperation between students and faculty are among the continuing goals of the organization.

The Oktoberfest, held October 25-27, and the Fall and Spring Recognition Services were the principal activities of Geist during the year. At the Honors Council Assembly, the Elizabeth Burger Jackson Scholarship was presented.

After winning honors at eastern Press Association meetings, the VIRGINIAN staff worked even harder this year to produce a first-rate yearbook.

Staff recruiting in the fall added many new members. Better coverage of campus events was again a primary aim of the staff. More explanatory copy was necessary to accommodate increased photography.

A major innovation, however, was in the Senior Section. Mr. Hall, the yearbook photographer, took candid shots of each senior. These photos capture both picturesque scenes around the Longwood College campus and the varied personalities of the girls.

Formed in 1938, the Wesley Foundation is an organization for students who wish to explore the Methodist faith. Methodist students at Longwood are encouraged to participate in the organization as it strives to carry out Christian ideals and make the spiritual aspects of life felt on campus.

Political Science Club

After experiencing a very successful first year in 1967-1968, the Political Science Club has moved forward in 1968-69 with various activities. In addition to sponsoring Arab and Israeli speakers on campus, the club has sent delegates to several conferences throughout the eastern United States. These conferences have included Mid-South Model United Nations Conference in North Carolina, National Model United Nations Conference in New York City, and National Student Leadership Conference on World Affairs in New York. The Political Science Club seeks to encourage in all students a better understanding of the full range of political science through all available media.

R.M.O. Begins First Year at Longwood

The R.M.O. Club, the newest organization on Longwood's campus, is composed of Juniors and Seniors who display the characteristics of spirit and friendship. The Roaches, as they are commonly called can be seen on many occasions walking through dorms, carrying candles as they visit students whom they feel have Roachy qualifications. After organization in October, the R.M.O. members quickly found Dean Jo Holt for their advisor. With her leadership abilities, the R.M.O.'s have many unique and worthwhile projects on the drawing board for the future.

The Roaches feel that this is only the beginning for them and soon the R.M.O. spirit and friendship will spread throughout the campus.

With candles in hand, the Roaches walk through the dorms to visit prospective members.

Jinx Washington, a Roach, makes plans.

Sing Out Club

Sing Out Students, organized for the first time this year, is an organization made up of young people who are interested in expressing their feelings about America's future through means of music. The group has performed on various occasions both on and off campus. These performances were given for civic groups at Hampden-Sydney and at area schools.

Sorority life is a means by which a college girl can achieve a rewarding and fulfilling association with young women of high social and intellectual ideals. With eleven sororities on campus Longwood provides ample opportunity for its students to participate in an experience which will continue throughout life, even after college years are past.

SORORITIES

Mrs. Robert Woodburn—Panhellenic advisor

Panhellenic Council

The Panhellenic Council is an organization to establish activities and settle problems among the Greeks. One of the purposes of this group is to further fraternity harmony. The council is also concerned with furthering intellectual accomplishment and sound scholarship.

During the year Panhellenic Council initiated various activities. A bonfire was held in September at which all the sororities participated. Also in September the council selected the two new sororities to be colonized. Fall rush was held November 14-26 ending with a "walk" which was introduced this year. The colonization of Alpha Delta Pi and Alpha Phi, the two new sororities was held February 19-24. Spring rush was held in April. Greek Week, April 28-May 2, ended the Council's activities for the year.

Fall Rush

Fall rush was held this year during the week and a half preceding the Thanksgiving Holidays. Many friendships were made as rushees and sorority members hurried through six nights of parties and many days of visitation. On the final day of rush the girls going through rush chose their sisters in a symbolic walk from Lankford Building toward Stubbs, the Sorority Dormitory.

ASAs enjoy the fellowship of their sisterhood.

The excitement of Rush Week is culminated with the rushees making their choice known in a walk to their new sisters.

Alpha Gam, Pam Crowder, in true panhellenic spirit visits the Phi Mu booth on the Midway during Geist Festival.

Dean Wilson and Panhellenic Advisor, Mrs. Woodburn, give last minute instructions to new sorority rushees. Ashley prepares to sign preferentials.

Alpha Gamma Delta

One more time, Suzanne.

Alpha Gamma Delta was founded at Syracuse University on May 30, 1904. In 1935 a need was felt for a new sorority at Longwood. Therefore, Theta Sigma Upsilon was introduced in 1939 and in 1959 merged with the National Alpha Gamma Delta. On October 10, 1959 Gamma Lambda chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta was installed.

The purpose of Alpha Gamma Delta is to find a fuller meaning in life through a closely knit sisterhood. By working together, the Alpha Gam's learn to accept each other as individuals and to appreciate what each sister has to offer to the sorority and college campus.

This is just between you and me, Shorty.

Alpha Sigma Alpha

Founded in 1901 at Longwood, Alpha Sigma Alpha was the first national sorority organized in the twentieth century. The sorority, in loyalty to its Alpha chapter and because the education field was in great demand of sororities, decided to limit its chapters to teachers colleges and colleges of education in Universities.

Today more than 51 chapters throughout the country work to achieve the aims of the sorority: physical, intellectual, social and spiritual development. The open motto of the sorority is "Aspire, Seek, Attain."

New officers for 1969-1970
Dale Moore, Debbie Duff, Sue Rhodes, Linda Driver, Pres.; Cindy Jamison, Treas.; Jane Richardson, Kaydell Edwards and Sandy Peterson, First V.-Pres.

Departing Seniors, Ann Smith, Sandra Dew and Lynne Rachal receive gifts from the sorority.

The last dress and the last book are packed. After struggling through exams, the Longwood student now has a few moments to think about the year that has just passed. A myriad of thoughts rush to her mind. This year's work is finished and she breathes a sigh of relief, but in vain, as she thinks of registration and quickly counts the number of times she still has to go through the hectic ordeal.

Fondly, she thinks of the seniors, viewing through clouded but excited eyes their last look at Longwood. How well she remembers their many activities and the notorious "Senior Day." Then she thinks of her own class and the many things it has accomplished this year.

The holidays, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Vacation fly through her mind and she remembers the gourmet food and holiday festivities. Christmas at Longwood is her favorite she decides, and she thinks of how reluctant she was to leave that part of Christmas behind.

The Presidential election comes to her thoughts and she pictures that long, frantic night she spent glued to the television. She thinks of Longwood's own new President, Dr. Willett, and her delight of being able to see his inauguration. She also remembers the major and minor elections with the all-out campaigning.

"The plays were fantastic," she says to herself. With Hampden-Sydney and Longwood combined, they had to be outstanding. The Jarman Series and the Artist Series were interesting and a challenge to her intellect.

Longwood's special events are pictured in her mind. The exciting Oktoberfest, the Junior Ring Dance, the Miss Longwood Pageant, and May Day are her most prominent memories.

"Can this really be over?" she thinks as her parents knock on the door. A few more hours until graduation and some of her friends will leave Longwood forever. Summer vacation and a new job await her as she picks up her luggage and fondly, but just a little bit sadly, looks back to the lifeless and empty room.
